Personal Identifiable Information

VALUE collects personally identifiable information ("PII", information such as your full name, email address, mailing address or customer account number) in order to create or enhance your experience with our website.

When we collect PII from you, it is because you voluntarily submit the information to us in order to have access to VALUE's products, services or information or you wish to participate in activities like registrations, contests, surveys, forums, chats or bulletin boards.

If you choose to participate in a discussion (message board or chat), we need your name and e-mail address to establish an account to allow access to discussions. VALUE is not liable for any personally identifiable information you choose to disclose as part of a discussion (message boards or chats).

VALUE will use your PII in a manner that is consistent with this policy and only for the purpose for which it is submitted, unless other uses are disclosed at the time of collection and you allow us to use your information in other ways. From time to time, we may refer to your PII to better understand your needs and how we can improve our products and services. We may use that information to contact you.
